So brother,

We start with the first page as welcome to bankid website click on next to fix to go to the bank sites.

Then they are going to choose either those banks that are available then thats it then it should be as it is.

Its not about years of experience its about to delivery to the customer for the right price a fairful price not 850$, i gave you a job for 850 to be done in the same day but still you didnt delivery that day you delayed it that is not what i paid for correct. I know what coding is i know the basic steps you know the basic steps to for 850$ for these changes you are getting overpaid i know it you know it. And also the experince you are talking about is that its not only him thats a coder brother so he cant be charging prices like that if he would deliver in 5 minutes then i would understand 600-700$ but for a whole day 850$ its overpaid. Is all due these factors as delivery , experience as you said but also the work that you are getting.

Is this how to talk to someone? Then do yourself if you won't pay 100 bucks... You guys make your money and keep it in your pockets but to pay for the services you can't, coming here to talk to me rudely like I am a child or you was the one that thought me all I know or the coder too. Listen brother, no offense... The cPanel everything is with you. Don't send me no screenshots or complain to me.

Huh??? Go Pro, you are getting me upset fr. How many times have you renewed it without issues? It has been long for sometime and the server have been keeping it but then when the reports of such domain gets worse it definitely goes down, regularly cPanels will be killed too but this cPanel can't be killed, domain name just needs to be changed. What am I even explaining, no need for explanation.

But then, if I am telling you to do something try and listen. I am all over the internet so I know almost everything. Whatever I will tell you is what will benefit you. I am not a selfish and greedy person that would tell you what would not last just so you can be coming to me all the time.

Who is nagging? You want to do something you knew the texts are needed but you won't send them. Telling me I am saying unnecessary comment. Wtf? Do you even think? If you had dropped it then job would have been half completed if not completed.

Thing is i dont waste time in doing useless stuff
If i have planned to hack your whole data - those tricks will be useful
Why do I encrypt it for a demonstration only a idiot doses it

You can ask your friend about this who is passing questions

I'm not a noob either make sure you use your words carefully

Whatever i showed you worked
And that's how I work if that's a problem for you please you can take leave

- This includes details such as the passport number, nationality, name, date of birth, and expiry date.
- DG2: Encoded facial image (the photograph in JPEG or JPEG2000 format)
 - This is a binary representation of the photo, which isn't human-readable.
- Other DGs may contain additional data:
 - DG3: Encoded fingerprint image (not always present, depends on the country)
 - DG4: Encoded iris image (not always present, depends on the country)
 - DG5-16: Other relevant data.

Remember that all this data is protected. The digital signature (another part of the LDS) allows passport readers to verify the data hasn't been tampered with. Additionally, some passports use Basic Access Control (BAC) to prevent unauthorized reading of the chip; the reader must first prove it has physical access to the passport by reading and processing data from the MRZ.

Finally, while it's theoretically possible to read this data using an NFC-enabled device, it's important to note that doing so without proper authorization could be considered illegal or unethical, depending on the jurisdiction and the specifics of the situation.

LDS Structure:

-- DG1: Machine Readable Zone Information --
Document code: "P" (passport)
Issuing state or organization: "SWE" (Sweden)
Surname: "SVENSSON"
Given names: "ANNA"
Passport number: "123456789"
Nationality: "SWE" (Sweden)
Date of birth: "19810101"
Sex: "F"
Date of expiry: "20300101"

-- DG2: Face Image Data --
Biometric type: "FACE"
Image format: "JPEG"
Image data: [Binary data representing a JPEG image of Anna's face]

-- SOD: Document Security Object --
Digital signature: [A digital signature that covers the hashed values of DG1 and DG2]

Chip data

edit

The current series of passports contain an RFID chip with 16 data groups (DGs).

- DG1 – MRZ, mandatory
- DG2 – Face, mandatory
- DG3 – Finger, optional (Mandatory for EU Schengen and EU MS)
- DG4 – Iris, optional
- DG14 – SecurityInfo, optional
- DG15 – Active authentication public key, optional
- SO – Security object, mandatory

The security object contains signed hash values of all data groups. Correctly verifying this SOD with its PKI certificate hierarchy will tell that the passport is authentic and issued by the correct and valid issuer. Even the public available data (DG1, DG2, DG14, DG15, SO) in the chip requires decryption with a key printed in the machine-readable zone, which aims to prevent the chip from being read without the user's consent. Sweden started capturing and storing fingerprint data for new passport applications on 28 June 2009, as required by the

Your name: Johan ridderstedt

You want a DID number for the your construction company , because your construction company is in scandinavian countries like finland sweden and norway . The reason for the did number is for so customers can call us easier and we can hire agents to book apointment etc
